Gathwala Khap relaxes gotra marriage norm Our Correspondent

Sonepat, June 17

The Gathwala (Malik) Khap, the largest khap of the Malik Gotra Jats, unanimously resolved to relax a norm pertaining to gotra marriages. The khap has decided not to take into account the gotra of grandmothers in such marriages.

These decisions were taken at a khap panchayat held at Ahulana village near Gohana on Sunday. The panchayat was presided by the khap dada (social head), Baljit Singh Malik, and attended by representatives from different states. The khap also decided to support stringent punishment for rape accused and create social awareness against female foeticide and dowry menace. Malik also laid the foundation of a 'Khap Chabutra' at Ahulana village.

Later talking to mediapersons, Malik said the Gotra's "nikasi" had taken place from Ahulana village and not from Chhichhrana village. He said the khap would take action against those who were allegedly making false claim of 'nikasi' from Chhichhrana village.

Prominent among those who attended the panchayat were former minister Ved Singh Malik and Kulbir Singh Malik from Haryana, gotra's second in command, Dada Har Kishan from Uttar Pradesh, Kanshi Ram from Rajasthan, Baldev Singh from Punjab and Azad Singh, Bhupinder Singh and Joginder from Delhi.
